

SCT Tools

Special Carbide Tooling is a leading cutting tool production company which produces solid carbide tools for the metalworking industry. Our product range contains a large variety of standard tools. In addition, we develop, engineer and manufacture special tools according to our customer's needs.

We optimize your production.

Quality and Innovation are the driving forces behind our development and production process. Our mission is to optimize your production processes with our tools. We therefore offer the best possible solution for your specific business application.

Our quality products are technically supported to maximize the usability of our tools and achieve extensive tool life. All products are available from stock and, because of our fine logistic organization, we can supply our products shortly after receipt of order.
