

Specialutensili srl in tune with the production needs of the end users of dies for rolling self-tapping screws with tip, in step with the technological improvement of rolling machines and with the ever increasing precision requirements of the diametrical tolerances of the screw and of the forming of the tip, presents on the national and foreign market its own product.

The combs produced by Specialutensili respond in a concrete way to the current conditions of use.

They are the result of the most appropriate study of the characteristic parameters of this type of tool, aimed at obtaining a product with ever-increasing reliability requirements.

"OVER 30 YEARS IN THE TOOLING SECTOR"